SUCCESS STORIES

EMILY WALSH

A member of the U.S. National Team, Walsh won a gold medal with the U.S. Women's Eight at the 2012 World Rowing Under 23 Championships in Trakai, Lithuania.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Walsh began her rowing career as an Ohio State novice in 2008. She began rowing as a member of the varsity squad in 2010, competing with the First Varsity Eight for the remainder of her collegiate career and helping the team win its third Big Ten Conference title in 2011.

Walsh was named a Second Team CRCA All-American as well as being named First Team All-Central Region and First Team All-Big Ten during her senior season. Additionally, she earned Academic All-Big Ten and OSU Scholar-Athlete honors for three consecutive years.

MARGOT SHUMWAY

In 2012, Shumway rowed as a member of the U.S. pair in the women's double sculls event at the London Olympics. The pair advanced to the Grand Final, placing sixth overall.

In 2008, Shumway rowed stroke for the women's quadruple sculls in her first Olympic appearance in Beijing, China, and raced in the Rowing World Cup in Lucerne, Switzerland. Shumway also represented the U.S. in the single scull at the 2009 Senior World Championships in Poznan, Poland.

She began her rowing career at Ohio State as a walk-on to the novice team in 2001. During the spring of 2001, she was promoted to the First Varsity Four at the NCAA championships in Georgia. The following season, Shumway raced in both the First and Second Varsity Eights and was instrumental in helping the 2V8 and the team win their first Big Ten Conference titles.

A number of other firsts, with the assistance of Shumway, occurred during the 2002 campaign. Ohio State achieved its first-ever Top 3 national ranking and the 1V8 became the program's first boat to qualify for the Grand Final of the NCAA championships.

GRACING THE HALL OF FAME

Since the Ohio State Department of Athletics began sponsoring women's rowing in 1996, the Buckeyes have produced four Ohio State Athletics Hall of Fame recipients.

In 2011, current assistant coach Diana Albrecht was inducted into the hall of fame, following in the footsteps of Karla Fiserova (2001-03), a 2009 inductee, Maxi Meissner (2000-03) in 2008 and Cornelia Kirsch (1999-02) in 2007.

Maxi Meissner – 2008 Inductee

Maxi Meissner was a key part of Ohio State's first Big Ten rowing championship team in 2002. The two-time captain was twice a first-team All-American and first-team All-Big Ten rower. In 2001 and '03, Meissner was selected to the first-team All-Central Region team. Those same years, she was named MVP of the rowing team. Meissner was a four-time Ohio State Scholar-Athlete and three-time Academic All-Big Ten recipient. In 2003, she was named the most outstanding student from the Midwestern Chapter of the American College of Sports Medicine.

Cornelia Kirsch – 2007 Inductee

Conny Kirsch helped the rowing team make Ohio State history by lifting the program to its first Big Ten championship in 2002. Kirsch was a part of the First Varsity Eight crew that won the Grand Final and because of her efforts was named the Big Ten Co-Rower of the Year, the first in program history. That same boat went on to win the Central Regional championship Grand Final. The Buckeyes followed their conference title with a then-program best fourth-place finish at the NCAA championships. Kirsch's individual accolades include earning first-team All-America honors in 2002 to complement her second-team laurels in 2000 and 2001. She also was a three-time first-team All-Big Ten and All-Central Region selection (2000, 2001 and 2002). Kirsch was an Academic All-Big Ten selection in 2001 and 2002, as well as a three-time Ohio State Scholar-Athlete.

Karla Fiserova – 2009 Inductee

2002 Most Valuable Rower Karla Fiserova led the Buckeyes to the program's first Big Ten Championship. A 2003 First Team CRCA All-American, she was a two-time First Team All-Central Region and First Team All-Big Ten selection. She was a two-time CRCA National Scholar-Athlete and Academic All-Big Ten honoree, as well as a three-time Ohio State Scholar-Athlete. Fiserova was also a member of the Czech Rowing Team in 1995-2000, participating in the world championships and world regattas.

Diana Albrecht – 2011 Inductee

Diana "Didi" Albrecht was a member of the rowing team from 2002-05. During her letterwinner seasons, Albrecht was named First Team Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association (CRCA) All-America twice (2004 and 2005). Additionally, Albrecht was a First Team All-Central Region and First Team All Big Ten selection during those seasons. The Buckeye 2005 team captain and most valuable player, Albrecht collected CRCA National Scholar-Athlete and Academic All-Big Ten laurels in 2003, '04 and '05. The Dresden, Germany, native added a 2005 Big Ten Medal of Honor finalist recognition to her list of scholastic and athletic awards.

Ninett Kossowsky – 2013 Inductee

A four-year letterwinner and member of the first varsity eight, Kossowsky was a key component of the 2006 Big Ten Championship team, leading Ohio State to its second Big Ten title. In 2006, Kossowsky was named the Big Ten Rowing Athlete of the Year, the second Ohio State rower to earn the honor after Conny Kirsch in 2002. She earned First Team CRCA All-American, First Team All-Central Region and First Team All-Big Ten honors for her efforts throughout the 2006 season.

A four-time Ohio State Scholar-Athlete, Kossowsky earned Second Team All-Central Region and Second Team All-Big Ten honors during her junior season. Kossowsky graduated from Ohio State in August 2007 with a degree in Business Administration. She remained an avid athlete, competing in the 2009 Frankfurt Marathon and the 2010 Hamburg triathlon and Wiesbaden Ironman.

2013 SEASON IN REVIEW

The Buckeyes posted their best team finish in 2013, capturing their first NCAA National Championship in addition to claiming national titles in the first varsity four and second varsity eight. In doing so, the Buckeyes became the first Big Ten rowing program and the first women's program at Ohio State to win an NCAA National Championship.

In a record-setting year for Ohio State rowing, the Buckeyes won a second consecutive national title in the first varsity four, which had previously brought home the program's first national title in 2012. In addition, the second varsity eight closed out the season with a perfect 12-0 record (compiling a 17-0 regular season record dating back to March 24, 2012) and its first national title.

The Scarlet and Gray ranked within the Top 5 for all but one week throughout the 2013 campaign, including one week at No. 1. Junior Claire-Louise Bode became the first rower under Teitelbaum to earn Ohio State Female Athlete of the Year honors and the third rower to be named Big Ten Rowing Athlete of the Year.

Ohio State captured its fourth conference title at the 2013 Big Ten Championships after compiling a championship record 160 points. Altogether, five of seven crews (first novice eight, third varsity four, first varsity four, second varsity eight and first varsity eight) earned gold medals.

ROWING GLOSSARY

SEASON SNAPSHOT

Crew is a noun that refers to one type of rowing. Crew refers to the larger rowing boats, Fours and Eights, which are typical of collegiate competition. Rowing is the name that the NCAA has adopted for the sport and uses officially in its championships.

Within the collegiate environment, Eights and Fours are the primary events that are contested. Those events are then broken down into Varsity, Junior (Second) Varsity, First Novice and Second Novice, as well as a lightweight category - which presents athletes who weigh less than 130 pounds. Varsity athletes are experienced rowers, whether they are freshmen or upperclassman, while novices are first-time, usually freshmen or sophomore rowers.

Rowing encompasses sweeping (one oar per person) and sculling (two oars per person). In college rowing, the athletes compete in only sweeping events. The larger boats usually have coxswains, who steer the boat. The minimum and most advantageous weight for a female coxswain is 100 pounds. They can either sit in the front (stern) or back (bow) of the boat.

When watching a team row, look for good timing. See if all the oars and bodies are moving together. Technique and synchronization are keys to being successful. Not only does each member have to do her part, but the crew must always work in sync. All strokes must be simultaneous; one rower can make the difference for the entire crew if they do not work together.

Head Races: Head races are traditionally held in the fall. Boats cross the starting line at full speed, separated by intervals of roughly 15 seconds, and usually navigate three miles of river around bends and under bridges. The crew in each event that completes the course in the shortest amount of time wins.

Sprints: Sprints are the primary mode of racing in spring regattas. In collegiate competition, these races are contested over 2,000 meters with a course of four to seven lanes. Depending on the venue, the start may be floating or staked and the lanes may be buoyed or unmarked.

Indoor Competition: An indoor regatta is a 2,000-meter race on ergometers or rowing machines. A rower's primary form of winter training is erging.

Bow: the forward end of the boat which crosses the finish line first; the rower in the seat nearest the forward end of a shell who typically has a quick catch, stable technique and a shorter arc.

Blade: the end of the oar which pulls the boat through the water.

Bucket rigging: two riggers on the same side next to each other instead of alternated.

Coxswain (cox): the person who steers the boat. The coxswain either sits in the stern or lies in the bow giving commands to the rowers.

Ergs: short for ergometer; a land based rowing machine used for training that simulates the rower's action in the boat and measures various items such as power, length, frequency, distance and time.

Lightweight: a crew on which each athlete weighs under a specific amount (130 pounds for women).

Novice: a rower in the first year of competition.

Regatta: the name of rowing events in which several crews compete.

Repechage: a second chance race for those crews which do not automatically advance to the finals of an event.

Rigger: the metal extensions protruding from the sides of the boat.

Run: the distance the shell moves during one stroke.

Sculling: a type of rowing where each rower uses two oars.

Shell: another word for the rowing boat. It seats nine people for an Eight and five people for a Four, and ranges in length from 45 feet for a Four to 58 feet for an Eight.

Stern: the back of the boat; the end the rowers face during competitions.

Sweeping: a type of rowing where each rower has one oar.

Varsity: the collegiate rower who competes beyond the novice level. Eights (8+) and fours (4+) are the most common collegiate competitions and the two events held at the NCAA Championships. The plus indicates a coxswain on board.
